Report Period: Oct 19-Nov 1

Summary of Progress in this Period

We finalized Design Document V2 and began working on revisions and the final two chapters for the final edition. Then we began to explore what our front end will actually look like with functional mockups, and we began researching node.js libraries that could aid in graphing. We divided ourselves into frontend and backend teams and began simple development tasks for our proof of concept.

Pending Issues

We are currently looking into which graphing library will serve our needs best. Backend is familiarizing themselves with Python and Django databases.

Plans for Upcoming Reporting Period

We plan to finish the final design document and create a working proof of concept (including simple communication across all levels of the app). Both teams are meeting Sunday @ noon to work on development.
